

"BILL" WARD PICKS BANNARD AS VICTOR

Republican Committeeman Backs His Judgment In Mayorality Race.

And there you are. Tammany has a fine big scare, but it isn't about Gannor, for Tammany would be just beside itself with rapture if somebody would give it a diagram of a trading scheme by which it could knife Gannor and save the board of estimate. The scheme can't be figured out at this writing. It would be so vastly complicated and dangerous that no organization would dare undertake it except in extremes. The Tammany view of the situation is summarized in what a Tammany leader said to me today:

Tammany View.

"Yes, we'll elect that d— Gannor, whom we don't want, and we're mighty liable to lose everything else that we do most want."

The usual noise has been made about election frauds; and there is no doubt that Tammany counts on frauds to save it if necessary.

There is a fine row on because the superintendent of elections issued an order that when anybody's right to vote is attacked he shall first be allowed to vote and then arrested afterward.

That seems rather like the case of the municipal reformer who didn't want to spend money improving the water supply in order to stop a typhoid epidemic but was dead set on passing an ordinance to compel the undertakers to reduce the cost of funerals.

The Republican managers are trying to get Governor Hughes to force a change in that program.

To Prevent Fraud.

Chairman Parsons, of the New York county committee, said this afternoon that the elaborate arrangements had been made to guard against frauds.

"No, I will not tell what they are," he insisted, "but they are thorough, and it'll be a dangerous business to try to beat the ballot box this time."

The order of the election superintendent has been explained and modified, as to plans for its execution, so that the anti-Tammany managers are pretty confident it will do them no harm. Ivins, Parsons, and all the anti-Tammany managers today declared that none of them had anything whatever to do with the publication and circulation of an attack on Gannor in the Western Watchman, a St. Louis Catholic paper, which branded Gannor as an apostle from the Church, and a divorced man.

Republican Denial.

Likewise the Republican leaders declared they were not direct or indirectly responsible for the circulation of the San Francisco Leader attacks on Hearst.

Parsons' final statement today is that Gannor will get not over 200,000 votes, that Bannard will get 270,000, and Hearst not over 140,000.

"Gannor will get the smallest vote a Democratic candidate ever polled in Manhattan," he declared. "The reasons for his defeat will be found in the campaign he has made in the disaffection of thousands of Tammany people with him, in the fact that the public is thoroughly disgusted with Tammany rule, in the fact that Mr. Bannard's campaign has attracted to him thousands of Tammany Democrats and finally, in the fact that Hearst will

HUGHES HAS CHANCE TO CONTROL MACHINE

Death of Charles H. Gaus Gives Governor Opportunity to Appoint New State Comptroller With Power to Control Patronage.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Governor Hughes is today in a position to obtain control of the New York State Republican organization, and to have it at his back when the next Republican national convention meets the united delegation from this State.

For the first time since he was "pitchforked into politics," through his good work in ending the insurance steals, Hughes is able to take over the State leadership. If he will name a practical politician to succeed Charles H. Gaus, State comptroller, who died yesterday in his Canadian hunting camp, Hughes will control nearly all of the real patronages in the State, and through this patronage he can get the machine.

Inasmuch as it is admitted President Taft's advocacy of Senator Aldrich on his Western trip has stirred up real opposition to the President in the middle West and several of the State delegations from there, are likely to be anti-Taft, a candidate with New York's vote solidly behind him is likely to be a factor in the next national convention.

cut many thousands into the Gannor vote."

LIQUOR INTERESTS HOLD THE BALANCES

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 1.—The real issue of the present campaign which closes tomorrow is the question of what the liquor interests will do.

They have it in their power it is conceded, to defeat the Democratic candidate for governor, Judge William Hodges Mann, who holds prohibition views, but Senator Thomas S. Martin, the Democratic leader, is reported to have driven the liquor men into line, and he declared today the Democratic ticket will win by a "normal plurality."

It is doubtful, however, if the plurality will be much more than 25,000, as the Republicans have been materially reducing the Democratic plurality in the "Old Dominion" during the last few years, and it is admitted that the day of 100,000 pluralities is passed.

Capt. William P. Kent, the Republican candidate, claimed today that he will carry the State by 10,000.

POLITICS SIZZLING IN NEW ENGLAND

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—Politics today is sizzling in two New England States, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, where full State tickets will be elected tomorrow.

For Massachusetts, it is generally admitted the Democrats have a chance. The contest in the Bay State centers largely about a labor matter. Gov. Eben S. Draper, who is standing for re-election, recently vetoed a State eight-hour law and thus provoked the hostility of the workers. Of this fact, James Vahey, the Democratic candidate, is taking every advantage. The income tax, which was expected to be an issue, is being dropped by both parties.

In Rhode Island the same candidates for governor who opposed each other last year again head the tickets. Gov. Aram J. Pothier is the Republican nomination. Hughes' friends assert that now he must act and take this machine, as there is a renewal of talk that former President Roosevelt is likely one of these days to intimate that he might like to become a candidate again.

The State comptroller's office patronage is fully as good as that of the governor. Through it anti-Hughes leaders have kept the organizations intact. With both offices under his control Governor Hughes can build a machine which will relegate to the rear the old timers and recognize the "new idea" element, which has been slowly overcoming the reactionaries throughout the State.

It will also give Hughes control of the Legislature and will mean that the Legislature must meet in January will have to pass a direct primaries bill acceptable to the governor.

The death of Gaus, friends of Hughes insist today, means that Hughes must become the party leader in the State; that he must wipe out the old leaders who conspired to keep him in the State; that he must take the place of the old leaders and must take the place of the old leaders and must take the place of the old leaders.

With the situation hourly growing critical, Acting Governor Cox was appealed to for military aid. The Lexington company was at once dispatched to Jackson, while other troops in adjoining cities were ordered under arms to await immediate call. Following the arrival of the Lexington company at Jackson, 2,000 rounds of ball ammunition to take the place of the riot ammunition carried by the troops, were sent by special train.

FIGHTS ARE CLOSE THROUGHOUT OHIO

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 1.—Taxation, the liquor question, and bossism are the features of municipal campaigns throughout Ohio, but up to the present time no authoritative predictions are being made in any of the cities where hot fights are being waged.

The campaign in Cleveland is based upon the tax question with a savoring of the old traction issue. Mayor Tom L. Johnson is opposed by County Recorder Herman Baehr, the Republican candidate.

Johnson's platform demands an honest tax return, but the real issue, according to dopesters, is whether or not Cleveland is tired of Johnson. Betting favors Johnson at odds of five to three.

In Toledo a desperate fight is being waged against the administration of Mayor Brand Whitlock, and his reelection.

The brewery interests alleged domination of politics is the butt of bitter attacks.

In Cincinnati the old issue of "Cox rule" is being fought with customary vigor.

The liquor question forms the basis of the campaign in Youngstown, Salem, and Lorain. Dayton and Lorain are also demanding a settlement of the tax question.

ELECTRIC TRAIN KILLS SIX.

PRADER, France, Nov. 1.—Six persons were killed and twelve injured through the derailment of an electric train which was undergoing a speed test on the new railroad from Villfranc to Bourges yesterday morning. The train plunged into a deep ravine.

TO REBUILD CHAPEL.

VENICE, Nov. 1.—It has been decided to begin the reconstruction of the Chapel of the Rosary, which was erected to commemorate the battle of Lepanto, a naval victory won in 1571 by the Italian and Spanish fleets over the Turks.

CLASH IN BREATHITT IS HOURLY EXPECTED

Kentucky Mountaineers and Troops Ready for Election Day Trouble.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 1.—With armed mountaineers and feudists patrolling the streets of Jackson and guarding every mountain pass leading to that city, and State troops pitted against them, a serious and bloody conflict is feared at the election in Breathitt county Tuesday.

The Sunday following the sensational stealing Saturday, by an armed body of men, of all of the ballots printed for Tuesday's election and the carrying of them away to a remote part of the county. Hardly had this coup been effected and the news spread to the mountain districts, when the loyal partisans of both Democrats and Republicans began to pour into Jackson, heavily armed and menacing bloodshed.

Troops Ordered Out.

With the situation hourly growing critical, Acting Governor Cox was appealed to for military aid. The Lexington company was at once dispatched to Jackson, while other troops in adjoining cities were ordered under arms to await immediate call. Following the arrival of the Lexington company at Jackson, 2,000 rounds of ball ammunition to take the place of the riot ammunition carried by the troops, were sent by special train.

Governor Wilson, who was with the President at New Orleans, is now hurrying to the State to lend his influence in preventing bloodshed.

CLASH FEARED.

For a time before the arrival of the troops Sunday, armed bodies of both Democrats and Republicans took possession of the court house and an immediate clash was threatened over the stealing of the ballots. All telephone and telegraph wires out of Jackson were cut and until the arrival of the troops it was feared that bloodshed could not be averted.

While communication with Jackson is most difficult, still being interrupted, it is the impression today that the situation is well in hand, although the feudists and mountaineers are still in and around the city and a clash may at any time occur.

Ed Callahan, noted feudist, is declared to be the real power behind the movement on the part of the Democrats to regain control of local offices. The stolen ballots were turned over today to the proper officials and taken to the respective precincts.

Judge James P. Adams, who caused the troops to be called out, has gone to Beattyville.

SCALDED TO DEATH.

NORRISTOWN, Nov. 1.—H. A. McKneal, of Harrisburg, died in the hospital here late last night from scalds and burns received in the wreck of the Pennsylvania railroad engine, on which he was engineer, near Langhorne, early yesterday morning. More than one-quarter of the skin of his body was blistered and burned off.

CRUSHED IN SHREDDER.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—Newton McMillen, a farmer of New Bloomfield, was operating a corn-shredder, when his hand was caught in the machine. In an instant his head was drawn into the shredder and crushed. He was dead before help arrived.

LAHM SETS RECORD FOR COLLEGE PARK

Flying "Between Sun and Moon," He Pleases Prof.
Wright.

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Nov. 1.—Flying "for the first time in this country between the sun and the moon," as Prof. Wilbur Wright facetiously put it, Lieut. Frank P. Lahm this morning broke the records of the College Park school of applied aeronautics for long-time heavier-than-air flight, by remaining in the air 55½ minutes. This beats the next best records made here by about sixteen minutes, and is close to the record for a Wright pupil in any part of the world.

Lieutenant Lahm could have stayed longer, and would have made it at least sixty minutes, if he had known how close he was to the hour mark. He came down because he was getting a little cool, and because a gusty breeze had sprung up interfering somewhat with his operation.

Lieutenant Lahm made one short sky trip before he broke the record. He left the rail at 8:05 and stayed up for sixteen minutes. During the flight, which was uneventful, the professor got out College Park joke No. 2. One of the newspaper men suggested that news

"Well," said Mr. Wright, "you might say that this is the first flight in this country between the sun and the moon." And it was. Lahm, as she is known around here, was only about three-quarters over her course, and old Sol, as College Park loves to call him, was about one-quarter apparently on his. The biplane floated in between the two through a smoky pal rising from passing trains.

The second flight began at 8:54:30 and ended at 9:53. Lieutenant Lahm's control was good. He flew close to the earth most of the time, and "dipped" considerably at times. His landing was considered fair in the face of the breeze, Lieut. George W. England, of the Sixth Infantry, stationed at Missoula, Mont., came out to see the flights.

M. PAULHAN BREAKS DISTANCE RECORDS

LONDON, Nov. 1.—In a vain attempt to wrest the Michelin distance trophy from Farman, the French aviator, M. Paulhan today broke all English distance records by trying his Volsin biplane ninety-six miles at Brooklands. Paulhan was in the air three hours, and was forced to descend because his petrol gave out.

M. Farman's record for the Michelin trophy was 117 miles.

WHEN HATCHING

A swan on her nest guarded by her mate is a rather unusual and interesting sight which may be seen on the shore of a little pond that belongs to a charming estate in a little Cape Cod village.

During the five weeks' incubation of the eight big blue eggs the mutual care which these two huge birds give the coming family is a most curious and interesting study. The mother bird naturally attends to most of the brooding, but when she wishes to leave the immense elevated nest to feed or stretch her legs for a short time she gives a peculiar cry which the male bird immediately responds to, assuming her place on the nest as soon as she leaves it. During hatching time the mother bird remains on the nest continuously and male bird brings her food in his bill, laying it on the bank where she can reach it with her long white neck. Not until the last cygnet is out of the shell and well dried does she venture to move, and then the whole family takes to the water rejoicing.

KOREANS EXPECTED TO START A WAR

Japanese Army of Occupation Is Ready for An Outbreak.

KOBE, Japan, Nov. 1.—General Okubo, commander-in-chief of the Japanese army of occupation of Korea, called his staff into consultation today to outline a plan of campaign against the Korean outbreak, which is hourly expected.

The assassination of Prince Ito at Harbin created a wide feeling of unrest in Korea, in addition to the bitter anti-Japanese sentiment which is always present. General Okubo has planned to go to Tokyo to attend the funeral of Prince Ito on Thursday, but the conditions in Korea caused him to abandon the trip.

The outbreak at Seoul on last Friday night, when several hundred rioters fired the railway station there, is generally accepted as the signal for a general uprising. The rioters, who started from the city to arouse the surrounding countryside, were dispersed by a detachment of troops from the Seoul garrison. It is expected in the event of a general outbreak re-enforcements will be rushed from Tokyo in order to quell the rebellion before it gains headway.

NEW REALTY FIRM ENTERS THE FIELD

A. C. Houghton & Co. Opens Offices Today on F Street.

Under the firm name of A. C. Houghton & Co., Arthur C. Houghton and Horace M. Sullivan, formerly with Willig, Gibbs & Daniel, this city, and Joseph C. Zirkle, of Warrentown, Va., today opened offices at 623 F street northwest, where they expect to conduct a general real estate business. The firm will handle real estate, loans, and insurance.

Mr. Houghton, when with Willig, Gibbs & Daniel, was connected with the sales department of that firm, and is well acquainted with property values in every part of Washington.

Mr. Sullivan has had several years experience in every branch of the real estate business, and, like Mr. Houghton, is well acquainted in the Capital. Both Mr. Houghton and Mr. Sullivan are prominently identified with fraternal and social circles.

Mr. Zirkle, while not having lived in Washington as long as either of his business associates, has made a thorough study of local conditions, and is expected by his friends to prove a valuable member of the firm. It will be the constant aim of the firm to keep informed as to actions of a legal or legislative nature tending in any way to advance or depreciate property values, with the view of supplying its clientele with accurate information concerning the real estate market generally, or, in any specific section, at any time.
